

MORAL SENSE

There is little doubt that most adult humans have a moral sense , sentiment, or intuition, i.e. a non-inferential knowledge of ~~what is right~~ and ~~what is~~ wrong. What ~~are~~ subject to debate are the following questions: (a) is moral sense innate (~~Hutcheson~~ or learned, and if innate, is it natural or God-given (as Hutcheson claimed)?; (c) is moral sense cross cultural or culture-bound?; ((b) can moral sense be reinforced or debilitated by experience and teaching?
