VALUES: SOURCE & JUSTIFICATION

It has been claimed that all values are subjective, whence neither can be some justified except by some myth. I submit that/myths serve the function of value justifying certain values and of helping make/decisions, but that such justification is not rational, and that we must seek to replace myths with certified knowledge.

1 w 83227 F1 388